15 Winter St.

My dear Lizzy & all the Saints in Paris & home, Greeting. The sun is down on — not a cloud I suppose on both sides. Last week was full enough.

Sunday	962.	I think the 2nd	426	Catholic Sun,
3	558.	which made
4	253	$10.000,
5	288.	held just before, must us. There is a great pressure in the Money Market. Then there is, I suppose, a tension between the Unitarian Boston & the Catholic. The population of Boston is one half Foreign. I dont mean that there was a fusion of Whigs & Tish in force; but things are by their natural working &c. Lizzy will Kindly go to Mrs Keller or write to her & say that the Kents' goods arrived safely, & were greatly admired. Mr Symphathy & Thanks to Mrs André Walton, Madame de Pessons' & all those who have aided them in sending us these beautiful things.

The muslin embroidered collars all Lace at high prices. A considerable advance on the Paris Prices.
The Bridal Lamberquin Veil one hundred twenty five francs for 125 francs. The little ebony work-box with a medallion of flowers painted on alabaster sold for 50 francs The chairs of gothic form, for $100. The others are not sold yet but we have a week longer to keep open. The beautiful Russia leather pocket book for 20 francs. I showed them all to the Rowe who admired them much.

I shall write as soon as the fair is over to Madame Keller. Tell her that I am recommending them much to the attention of the fair sex. Kiss Charles for me & Love to them good by that means a great Bronze Lily Crowth 75 frames.

Till then, in general, Small objects are better than large ones; Henry has sold out his stocks here & gone with Warren to N. York to seek his fortune. All as well at Weymouth. Mrs.
Hunt & Helen Crystal & Emily Harriet was the same — no worse. C. L. F. chirpier. Mark finely & getting on well.
Mr. Jacobson has been very ill, but is better.
Every body enquires for you all. Love to Augusta.
Journal does us good. I wish he would
